

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Honor Group Inc Partners with SoldierSocks to Help Veterans Walk Again

Stamford, CT, July 10, 2014: Not-for-profit SoldierSocks announced today that The Honor Group Inc., a nonprofit whose sole purpose is to raise awareness and educate students, coaches and communities about the needs of our military veterans, will join forces for this year's Northern and Southern California Honor Bowl Football Invitations. The Honor Bowl is the nation's best high school football showcase. This year's event will draw twenty high schools from four different states and will be broadcast on television, national radio and livestream. The goal of the Honor Bowl is to educate our athletes and communities about the needs of our military veterans and meet these needs with awareness and fundraising plans. Ekso Bionics will provide a live demonstration to show how an Ekso™ (OTCQB: EKS0) robotic exoskeleton can help veterans living with spinal cord injury, stroke and other neurological conditions walk again. Ekso™ is a ready-to-wear, battery-powered bionic suit - or exoskeleton - which enables individuals with lower extremity paralysis to stand up and walk.

"We are honored to have The Honor Group Inc. as a partner. Their contributions will play a vital role in helping SoldierSocks assist our nation's heroes," said SoldierSocks founder, Chris Meek. "Together, we can help our service members literally take their next step forward."

For event details visit <http://thehonorgroup.org/2014-norcal-socal-honor-bowl/>

###

About SoldierSocks

SoldierSocks was founded in 2009 to provide basic necessities such as baby wipes, socks and sunscreen to American soldiers fighting for our country in the trenches of Afghanistan and Iraq. As more of our soldiers return home to the U.S., SoldierSocks continues to assist our nation's heroes in re-acclimating to civilian life by offering scholarships for colleges and trade schools and offering paralyzed soldiers an opportunity to gain mobility outside of a wheelchair.

To support SoldierSocks.com in their efforts to provide services to veterans across the United States, please visit our website at www.SoldierSocks.com

About The Honor Group, Inc.

The Honor Group is a nonprofit whose sole purpose is to raise awareness and educate students, coaches and communities about the needs of our military veterans. Providing service and education through athletic events, school assembly's and an upcoming live stream telecast called Honor Sessions. The 2014 Honor Bowl™, managed and produced by The Honor Group will be held in Northern and Southern California with teams participating from four western states. Funds raised by the nonprofit and through their events help equip wounded military veterans with much needed items and resources to assist them in returning to civilian life. The Honor Group relies on partners and volunteers who share the passion to make a difference.

About Ekso Bionics

Since 2005, Ekso Bionics has been pioneering the field of robotic exoskeletons, or wearable robots, to augment human strength, endurance and mobility. The company's first commercially available product called Ekso has helped thousands of people living with paralysis take millions of steps not otherwise possible. By designing and creating some of the most forward-thinking and innovative solutions for people looking to augment human capabilities, Ekso Bionics is helping people rethink current physical limitations and achieve the remarkable.

Soldier Socks Media Contact:

Chris Meek

Phone: (203) 832-2005

E-mail: info@SoldierSocks.com

Web: <http://www.SoldierSocks.com>

Facebook: facebook.com/pages/Soldier-Socks

Twitter: twitter.com/soldiersocks

The Honor Group Media Contact:

Mark Soto

coach@thehonorgroup.org

916.532.3514